

Citizen Curators Pilot Programme

Citizen Curators is a work-based training programme aimed at skilling up volunteers (and also staff who want to develop new and refresh old skills) in modern curatorial practice.

Supported by the Arts Council England Change Makers programme in Cornwall, led by Tehmina Goskar with Cornwall Museums Partnership and Royal Cornwall Museum.

Goals and competencies

- ✓ to create a community of practice that increases a museum's capacity to care for and provide better access to its collections and the knowledge they represent
- ✓ to engender an active interest in current good practice
- ✓ providing a pathway to becoming a modern curator in a rural/small museum context
- ✓ create a cohort of socially minded curators confident in their ability to challenge and change the culture of their museum, particularly around collections
- ✓ 50% recruitment from under-25s
